

smcp Psychotherapy Training Courses

Transactional Analysis is a psychological theory of personality. It offers ways of understanding our own personality and the relationships we have with others. It is also a form of psychotherapy. You may want to participate if you:

- are somebody who would like to become qualified as a Psychotherapist or Counsellor.
- would like to enhance your understanding / skills in working with people.
- are practising as a Counsellor and want to develop your effectiveness.
- would like to personally develop yourself with like-minded people.

Participation in the programme is flexible; training takes place at weekends, training years do not have to be consecutive, hours towards accreditation can be achieved at the student's own pace and missed training days can potentially be made up with the parallel group.
